DETAILED ACTION

1. This Non-Final Office Action is in response to Applicant's submission filed September 5, 2003. Currently claims 1-23 are pending.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 11, 19 and 21-23 are objected to because of the following informalities.

Regarding Claim 11, Claim 11 recites the acronym URL. Examiner suggests applicant revise claim 11 to recited Uniform Resource Locator (URL).

Appropriate correction is required.

Regarding Claim 19, Claim 19 appears to be an independent claim (directed to a computer program product) disguised as a dependent of claim 1 (a method). Examiner suggests applicant revise claim 19 to be an independent claim and positively recited the method steps performed by the computer when the executable code, stored on a computer-readable medium, is executed. Appropriate correction is required.

Regarding Claims 21-23, Claims 21-23, the system as claimed is merely configured to perform one or more method steps (e.g. configured to monitor), however the system does not actually perform the method steps. For the purposes of examination examiner assumes the applicant will amend the claim to positively recite system actually performs the method steps recited (e.g. a monitor tool that monitors...).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential steps, such omission amounting to a gap between the steps. See MPEP § 2172.01. Claim 20 as recited appears to comprise only a preamble wherein no steps for performing the method are positively recited.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

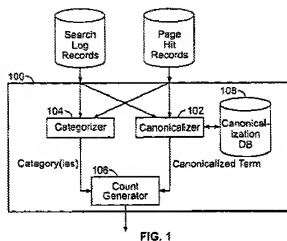

5. Claims 1-15 and 17-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yoo et al., U.S. Patent No. 7,146,416.

Regarding Claims 1, 19 and 20 Yoo et al. teach a system and method for analyzing usage of an expression (phrase, term, word, keyword, item, symbol, number, ad, content, topics, categories, etc.) comprising (Figures 1, 3B, 5, 7, 8):

- monitoring a selected organization (e.g. web site, document, book, etc.) for occurrences of a selected expression within a time interval (Column 4, Lines 28-68; Column 6, Lines 48-68; Column 7, Lines 5-68; Figure 5);
- gathering and storing predetermined attributes of each occurrence of the expression (Step 2, Column 5; Column 7, Lines 25-68; Figures 3B, 8);
- repeating the monitoring, gathering, and storing at a subsequent time interval (e.g. trends over time; Column 14, Lines 5-60; Figures 4, 6, 8-11); and
- compiling and storing the number of occurrences of the expression in the organization as a function of time and storing the resulting compilation in a user

Regarding Claims 9-10 Yoo et al. teach a system and method for analyzing usage of an expression wherein repeating occurs at a plurality of subsequent time intervals or wherein the time interval is a day (Column 8, Lines 65-68; Figures 4-6, 9-10).

Regarding Claim 11 Yoo et al. teach a system and method for analyzing usage of an expression wherein the predetermined attributes comprise time-stamping, website URL, or company information (Column 10, Lines 40-50; Figures 3B, 5, 8-11).

Art Unit: 3623

Regarding Claim 12 Yoo et al. teach a system and method for analyzing usage of an expression wherein the occurrences of the expression and predetermined attributes are stored in a data storage system (Column 12, Lines 15-57; Figures 1, 5, 7).

Regarding Claim 13 Yoo et al. teach a system and method for analyzing usage of an expression further comprising analyzing the resulting compilation of occurrences of the expression to determined a trend (Column 14, Lines 5-68; Column 15, Lines 5-52; Figures 11, 12B, 14).

Regarding Claims 17 and 22 Yoo et al. teach a system and method for analyzing usage of an expression further comprising filtering the occurrences of the expression and predetermined attributes (Column 11, Lines 14-24; Column 14, Lines 52-50; Column 15, Lines 35-45).

Regarding Claim 18 Yoo et al. teach a system and method for analyzing usage of an expression further comprising providing access to the stored predetermined attributes of the occurrences associated with a selected timed interview for display on a user interface. (SEE CLAIM 14)

Regarding Claim 21 Yoo et al. teach a system and method for analyzing usage of an expression comprising:

- a first data storage system (component, module, code, subsystem, objection, etc.) comprising an organization within a time interval (Column 13, Lines 30-68; Column 12, Lines 45-56; Figures 1, 5, 7);
- monitoring the organization for occurrences of the expression via a monitoring tool (Column 6, Lines 48-68; Section 2, Columns 7-8; Figure 1, 7);

- storing each occurrence of the expression and its predetermined attributes in a second data storage subsystem (Column 12, Lines 45-56; Column 13, Lines 30-68;

Figures 1, 5, 7);

- compiling and storing the number of occurrences of the expression in the organization as a function of time in a user accessible medium (Column 14, Lines 5-60; Section 41, Column 15; Figures 1, 5, 7-14).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yoo et al., U.S. Patent No. 7,146,416 as applied to claim 1-15 and 17-23 above, and further in view of official notice.

Regarding Claim 16 Yoo et al. does not expressly teach converting from audio content to textual content as claimed.

Official notice is taken that converting from audio content to textual content is old and well known wherein speech to text conversion enables one to more readily analyze, search and perform other data operations on the converted speech (text).

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of the invention that the system and method for analyzing usage of an expression as taught by Yoo et al. would have benefited from converting audio content to textual content thereby making it easier for one to analyze and/or store the original audio content in view of the teachings of official notice.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
